Biography

2057-2076

Helena was born in Bregenz on Lake Constance in Austria in 2057, the daughter of Richard and Veronika Kromstadt. She was the second child, because she had a brother who was 4 years older. Already when she was very young she showed her ability as a leader which her father noticed. She commanded her older brother around and commanded the household staff of Kromstadt Castle. 11 years later she had another younger sibling, Thomas Kromstadt. Her mother died in a car accident when she was 14.

Later she attended one of the most reformed schools in Europe and learned many different languages. After graduation she started working for Kromstadt Industry. Her father supported her strong leader instinct and secretly appointed her as his successor for the position of CEO of Kromstadt Industry. At 17, she lost her father to lung cancer, just like her grandfather. Her brother Richard Kromstadt Jr. then formed a faction to make him the new CEO. Helena, of course, did not accept this and she played a game with him. She became chairman of the board, but still pulled Kromstadt's strings in the background. After a month in office, Helena ousted her brother and had him killed during a car race in Monte Carlo. She then became the new CEO of Kromstadt Industrie, as stipulated in her father's will. She eliminated her late elder brother's former supporters and completely recomposed the board.

She expanded the science department and appointed her younger brother, who was a mechanical prodigy, as CTO of Kromstadt Industry. She also sponsored many ventures and made Kromstadt more present than ever. Her brother developed many new weapons and made Kromstadt the world leader in the next-gen weapons market.

She also hired two terrorists, Walter Freimann and David Pater, to lead her personal bodyguard, and she gave them both a genetic makeover and the use of next-gen cyberware.
